

The Community Library of DeWitt and Jamesville strives to be a public forum for ideas, information, and art. The Wendy Scott Art Gallery provides space to display art for the public to enjoy, and we provide bulletin boards for public information and postings..

The Library reserves the right to reject or remove any displays which, in the judgment of the library administration, interfere with the normal operations of the library or are deemed illegal, dangerous or inappropriate.

The utilization of the display area by an organization or individual shall not imply endorsement or approval by the Community Library of DeWitt and Jamesville.

The following conditions apply:

1. The Library has priority in scheduling space for its own displays.
2. Petitions are not allowed to be displayed in the library, unless for library or library-sponsored issues, as approved by the Executive Director.
3. All bulletin board postings will be marked with the date of receipt. Announcements will generally be posted for a two week period and will be removed at the end of that time or when no longer current. Materials of a general nature may be displayed for a one month period from the time received.
4. Groups/individuals must remove the displays at the agreed upon time. If a group or individual is unable to comply, the library will make every effort to safely store the display items until other arrangements can be made. If, after one month, display items have not been picked up they will become the property of CLDJ and may be used, sold or disposed of at the library's discretion.

5. The Library assumes no responsibility for items in the Art Gallery or bulletin boards. Those placing displays in the Art Gallery at the library will be required to sign the Display Agreement.

6. No fee will be charged for the use of the display areas or bulletin boards.

7. Any questions regarding this policy should be referred to the Executive Director.
