Meeting Room Use Policy

In keeping with the Community Library of DeWitt & Jamesville's mission to offer welcoming spaces for community interactions, the Library encourages use of the meeting rooms by non-profit groups engaged in educational, cultural, intellectual, or charitable activities. In keeping with federal, state, and local laws, meeting rooms are available to organizations and groups without regard to their religious, political, or philosophical beliefs.

The use of the Library meeting rooms is at the sole discretion of the Library Board of Trustees and/or its appointed representative(s). The Library reserves the right to refuse permission for room use or to cancel any previous permissions granted.

Please read this Library Meeting Use Policy before submitting your request to determine if your organization qualifies to use the Library’s meeting rooms. By applying for the use of a Library meeting room, the applicant and organization agree to adhere to all policies stated herein and to the Community Library of DeWitt & Jamesville Patron Code of Conduct.

WHO MAY USE OUR MEETING ROOMS

1. Community groups and organizations, except as described under “Fees & Charges” below, may reserve and utilize the Library meeting rooms. If there is a question about the group’s eligibility, the Executive Director reserves the right to review any or all requests and may require sufficient time to conduct an investigation before granting approval.

2. Community Library meeting rooms may not be used for political campaigning, religious services, or music rehearsals, except in the instance of guest performers practicing before a library event.
